

A Janata Curfew that misses aims

Comments 0

AT News 22 March 2020 Updated 23 Mar 12076 views

Guwahati: PM Narendra Modi's nationwide clarion call of Janata Curfew to fight the killer COVID19 missed the target on Sunday in Assam if the schemes of things in many parts of the state are any indications.

In many places people who kept themselves confined to their homes whole the day spilled to the streets at 5 in the afternoon ringing bowels and dishes to thank the health workers for dedicated service to the nation.

Even in the capital city of Guwahati defying curfew people in large number took out processions contrary to what they were supposed to do.

"We love our PM. We stand by PM Modified who appealed to us to do so, " said a housewife at Manipuri basti in the city.

A thread to show the #COVIDIOTS in India.. #JantaCurfew went wrong!! pic.twitter.com/AR6zbKoO7j

— Ravi (@ravixas) March 22, 2020

Manik Deb, a retired school teacher said that never the PM said so. " His appeal was misunderstood. He urged the people do these for a minutes at home to thank the health workers," said Deb.

These took place in many rural, urban and semi urban areas by a section of the people to took the PM's appeal other way.

The curfew was imposed to restrict the public gathering and these activities like procession has itself contradicted the aims in full view of the policemen who remained mute.

Sashi Sekhar Das, a college student in Jorhat called it a government failure to mobilise the mass to help them get rid of the menace.

AT News

Assam Times Staff. editor@assamtimes.org

BY AT NEWS

People's consultation on agroecology, climate adaptation concludes in Jorhat

USTM concludes workshop on academic writing and scholarly publishing

'Grit & Glory' released in Guwahati, highlights RSS work in Northeast

Art exhibition raises awareness for vulture conservation in Jorhat

ABSU holds youth motivation programme at Rangia College

ON THIS DAY

Rajor Dal on the doorstep

Heroin smugglers arrested

Gandhi Jayanti celebrated by Army in Lingibore

Cleanliness Drive By FCI and SOS Children's Village marks Gandhi Jayanti in Hojai.

PoK editor bats for more exchanges

RELATED

People's consultation on agroecology, climate adaptation concludes in Jorhat

USTM concludes workshop on academic writing and scholarly publishing

'Grit & Glory' released in Guwahati, highlights RSS work in Northeast

Young poet Avinash Bastabha's 'The Tale of Termites' unveiled in Jorhat

Art exhibition raises awareness for vulture conservation in Jorhat
