German has evinced keen interest in the exchange of experts in several sectors with Assam. This was disclosed on Friday while a 15-member delegation of German parliamentarians called on Assam Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi in Dispur and discussed it in details.

The delegation has informed Mr Gogoi that the country is interested to explore the state's rich resources. They hoped it could bring in outside investments. The delegation of the foreign parliamentarians arrived in the city on Friday evening and straightly met Chief Minister and showed their keen interest in the north eastern states.
