Social activist Akhil Gogoi on Saturday dared Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi to prove his alleged link with ULFA or Maoists. Talking to reporters in Guwahati, Gogoi, who is spearheading the movement of the farming community said very recently he came to know the notorious blueprint to kill him alleging his role with the Maoists. He said the blueprint was prepared in between October and November. He said the chief minister clear his stand as he is holding the home portfolio. The serious allegation came a day after independent MLA Bhuban Pegu revealed a blueprint to kill him and the social activist branding as Huji and Maoists respectively. Gogoi further said that the Chief Minister and his government are scared of what his organisation is doing for common people and 'that's why, they want to eliminate us.'
