

Bandh disrupts normal life in Sivasagar

Comments 0

editor 10 January 2009 10749 views

Normal life in Sivasagar district has been thrown out of gear as the entire upper Assam district slips into a total bandh from Saturday morning.

The 12 hour total bandh is being called by All Tai Ahom Students Union in protest against the death of its Sivasagar district vice president in police custody.

Barring the vehicles of security forces there are no vehicles are seen plying on the streets. All establishments are remaining closed from early in the morning. The bandh will end at 6 in the evening.

Apprehending untoward incidents the district authorities have made an elaborate security arrangement during the bandh hours.

editor

Please send your comments to editor@assamtimes.org

BY EDITOR

Witch hunting rerun in Chirang!

Police remand for Nagaon culprit

Candle lighting rally

ULFA condoles demise of SS Khaplang

Beef puts M'laya BJP in the red

ON THIS DAY

AJYCP protests against Lower Subansiri hydropower project

School reopening in the state

UPPL ready for election

Physical assault on magistrate in Kokrajhar

Peace Conversations in Assam
