

Dam on Siang to brew trouble

Comments 0

AT News 5 June 2015 Updated 5 Jun 11149 views

The Centre is planning to setup yet another huge dam to generate power which runs into a hail of protest in the entire north eastern region.

Union water resources development minister Uma Bharati told reporters in New Delhi on Thursday that the proposed mega dam would set up on the central Siang river in Arunachal Pradesh which could invite disaster in the down stream areas.

Dam agitating bodies told Assam Times that they would not sit idle and that they are fully prepared to go all out against the move to withdraw the move.

“We will go all out against the Narendra Modi government which has been trying to appease the power giants and corporate bodies downplaying the interest of the common people,” said a dam agitator.

Another agitating body official said, “we will soon sit and finalise the roadmap to oppose the move.”

AT News

Assam Times Staff. editor@assamtimes.org

BY AT NEWS

People’s consultation on agroecology, climate adaptation concludes in Jorhat

USTM concludes workshop on academic writing and scholarly publishing

‘Grit & Glory’ released in Guwahati, highlights RSS work in Northeast

Art exhibition raises awareness for vulture conservation in Jorhat

ABSU holds youth motivation programme at Rangia College

ON THIS DAY

Rajor Dal on the doorstep

Heroin smugglers arrested

Gandhi Jayanti celebrated by Army in Lingibore

Cleanliness Drive By FCI and SOS Children's Village marks Gandhi Jayanti in Hojai.

PoK editor bats for more exchanges

RELATED

People's consultation on agroecology, climate adaptation concludes in Jorhat

USTM concludes workshop on academic writing and scholarly publishing

'Grit & Glory' released in Guwahati, highlights RSS work in Northeast

Young poet Avinash Bastabha's 'The Tale of Termites' unveiled in Jorhat

Art exhibition raises awareness for vulture conservation in Jorhat
