

LATEST NEWS

Dam-Phi held at Langkuri Deohal of Charaideo

SK Hasan · 17:34, 4 Sept 2025 · 14122 views · 2 min read

In a bid to correctly identify the Moidam of Swargadew Chaolung Sukapha, the father of the Assamese nation and the architect of greater Assam, the Tai Ahom Development Council under the aegis of the Assam government, organized a Dam-Phi Puja at the Langkurri Deosal premises of Sivasagar district, today.

On the occasion, the MLA of Sunari constituency, Dharmeswar Konwar, laid the foundation stone for the development of the Deohal, which will be undertaken with a fund of Rs. 1 crore 8 lakhs approved by the Tai Ahom Development Council. The ceremony was attended by Cabinet Minister Jogendra Mohan, Chairman of Tai Ahom Development Council Mayur Borgohain, historian Padmashree Jogendranath Phukan, representatives of various organizations such as AATASU and TAIPA and other dignitaries.

The event highlights the efforts of the Assam government to preserve and promote the rich cultural heritage of the Tai Ahom community. The development of the Deohal is expected to not only enhance the spiritual and cultural significance of the site but also promote tourism in the region.

Dam-Phi Puja was celebrated with great fervor and enthusiasm, highlighting the rich cultural traditions of the Tai Ahom community. The event was a testament to the community's strong cultural roots and their efforts to preserve and promote their heritage.

SK Hasan

Freelance journalist, Nazira, Sivasagar district.

Original URL: <https://assamtimes.org/article/dam-phi-held-at-langkuri-deohal-of-charaideo-23551> | Published: 4 September 2025 | © 2026 Assam Times