A day-long media workshop sponsored by the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) has begun this morning (June 30) at Hotel Blue Moon in the city. Organised in support of Guwahati Press Club, the workshop is attended by over 30 journalists from the States of Sikkim, Tripura, Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram, Meghalaya, Arunachal Pradesh, Assam and also from Bhutan. Prior to the workshop, the resource persons from ICRC, New Delhi were felicitated by the participants with the traditional Asomiya Gamosa and Zapi. The first speaker of the program, Yahia Alibi, deputy head of the delegation, ICRC elaborated about the mandate and activities of the international forum, which has presence all over the world. The second session of the workshop was addressed by Dr S. Rajan with the theme of the international humanitarian law, whereas Surinder Oberoi discussed about the issue relating to the reporting in time of violence from a conflict zone.
