In a bizarre incident that touches off seismic waves of shock and anger, two minor girls were believed to have been killed after being raped in Karimganj district bordering Bangladesh. The incident took place on Wednesday. But the real picture came to light on Thursday after the bodies were found hanging in the two ends of the same rope on a tree. The family members desperately looked for the girls on Wednesday. But of no avail. On Thursday only, the lifeless girls were found inside a dense jungle along the Indo-Bangladesh border. The bodies were sent for the post mortem. Police officials told Assam Times that they are waiting for the post mortem report. The entire incident assumes significance two months after the shocking Badaun case where two minor girls were gangraped, killed to be hanged on a tree.

KOKRAJHAR, September 22, 2026 — The All Bodo Students' Union (ABSU) on Tuesday burnt copies of a book titled Hamkoshar Parishista during protests held at several locations across Assam, including Gauhati University, objecting to what it described as the use of the Assamese script to represent the Bodo language.

Hamkoshar Parishista is a multilingual appendix containing learning resources for indigenous languages of Assam, including Bodo, Rabha, Mising and Karbi.

During the protests, ABSU members alleged that Bodo has been represented in the publication using the Assamese script instead of Devanagari, the script used for Bodo.

The organisation asserted that Bodo is recognised under the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution of India and is an Associate Official Language of Assam. ABSU demanded that Bodo be represented in its recognised script in educational and learning resources.

ABSU president Khwrmmdao Wary said the use of the Assamese script to represent Bodo in the publication was disrespectful to the Bodo language and literature.

He said Bodo is an Associate Official Language of Assam and a language recognised under the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution.

Wary demanded the immediate withdrawal of the publication in its present form and called for the use of the Devanagari script for Bodo in the book.
