Security forces have been put on alert to ensure peace and normalcy during the Independence Day celebrations across the state on Wednesday.

Additional forces are remaining stand by at sensitive locations to foil any attempt by militant outfits to create disturbances. The government has some intelligence inputs about ULFA's possible attempt to disrupt the celebrations in Sivasagar, Dibrugarh, Tinsukia, Lakhimpur and Dhemaji districts.

A 'red alert' has already been sounded across the state, which witnessed a few IED blasts targeted at security personnel during the past couple of weeks, particularly in Goalpara district. The anti-talk faction of ULFA has called a customary state-wide bandh on the day.
