Media must play its role with all authenticity and commitments. More over the media persons must be investigative in mind and responsible in the activities. This is how a senior Assamese journalist DN Bezboruah started an orientation program for the mid career journalists of Guwahati Press Club on October 10. Attending the program, organized by the press club, the former editor of 'The Sentinel' inspired the journalists to take up the issues, those are relevant and important for the life and living of the common people.

The former president of 'Editors Guild of India', Bezboruah also elaborated about the importance of media fellowship program and the required quality and efficiency of the fellows to make the initiative successful.
