Both NSCN factions in Nagaland are in talk to regroup for restoration of peace in the state. Talking to a private TV channel on Monday over telephone, NSCN Khaplang home minister Wanting Naga said the top guns of both the faction recently met at New Land in Dimapur to discuss the regrouping bid. He further said it will help restore permanent peace in the north eastern state adding that the incidents of violence is decreasing after the meeting. He however, denied the emergence of new militant outfit in the state.
