A painting and photography exhibition will be held at Diphu on August 18-19 which is being organised by Curves & Shades. Exhibitions by “Curves & Shades” has attracted due attention from artists and patrons likewise and has proved to be a great platform that India Today quoted as “Stroke of Inspiration” for young budding talents and since then its has been a “runaway hit” (as reported by IANS). This amazing alternative space for encouragement to young artists from different fields of art form is in fact a innovation of Ranjan Engti, a popular Karbi artist from Karbi Anglong.

“Curves & Shades” was formed in the year 2004 to limelight and endorse the creative aptitude in the field of painting and photography from the North East, where youth from diverse field can come together to represent artworks depicting people, life, culture and nature. These art forms manifest themselves through the works of artists and photographers from each state of Northeast.
