A hail of protests in the form of bandh seems to have crippled normalcy in the BTAD areas on Monday. Several organizations have enforced 24 hour bandhs in the BTAD areas on Monday in protest against NDFB's killing spree where 8 people died and over 10 have injured in four different incidents of attack on innocent people.

Life remained paralyzed in the entire BTAD areas following the 24 hour bandhs which began at 6 in the morning on Monday. shops and markets, schools and colleges, banks and offices remained closed while the vehicles of security forces were seen plying on the roads.
