Utter confusion seems to have gripped Assam Congress after chief minister Tarun Gogoi and APCC president Bhubneswar Kalita maintained different position on Biswajeet Daimary's fate in the Rajya Sabha polls.

The BPF candidate was in a mood to withdraw the nomination citing lack of strength. But finally, he agreed to contest after Gogoi's assurance of strategies for his smooth sailing.

But APCC president Kalita spoke differently on Friday. He said that the party can't assure the BPF leader of victory.
