Singapore evinces its keen interest to strengthen business presence in the North East with hospitality and tourism as the major potential areas of cooperation. Talking to the region's industry leaders in Guwahati on Wednesday, Singapore foreign minister K Shanmughan said that North East is generally not identified as business destinations but the fact is that beneath the surface. He said that region is exciting from the point of view of the hospitality sector and we believe there is opportunity for Singapore business houses to tap the potential of hospitality in the North East.
