

Street play against atrocities on women

Comments 0

Ritupallab Saikia 20 December 2008 13040 views

In order to create awareness among the public about the increasing incidents of atrocities on women, “Sanmilita Nari Adhikar Suraksha Mancha” has started a two month long mass awareness programme in some districts of upper Assam. In association with “Vox-Pouli”, a local NGO, they staged a street play titled “Dharitrir Uchoponi” at Golaghat town on 19th December. In India a women is raped in every 26 minutes; a case of dowry death occurred in every 102 minutes etc. Talking to Assam Times, Vox-Populi’s President Partha J. Bora said that even after implementation of Domestic Violence Act and other stringent provisions in Indian Penal Code for violence against women, the incidents of atrocities against women have not come down. He further added that people would react positively to this type of awareness programme.

Ritupallab Saikia

BY RITUPALLAB SAIKIA

Inter-DPS basketball tournament concludes

Agitators lathicharged at Golaghat

Arrest of ADC demanded over payment of land revenue to Nagaland

Barbaric killing of a jumbo

ULFA cadre nabbed

ON THIS DAY

BJP leader likely to surrender

Congress demands CM's resignation

Durga puja ends in Kokrajhar

Award for BVFCL Daily Bazaar Puja

Dalai Lama to visit Manipur on October 17
