TANGLA:

People from all walks of life - irrespective of caste, colour, community and religion joined in unison to celebrate Holi- the festival of colours with gusto at Tangla on Friday. Community celebrations also marked the occasion where the faithfuls took out a procession throughout the town. Holi revellers specially youths comprising boys and girls were also seen descending on the roads and streets in their hordes and lending a carefree ambience to the celebrations. Young children with their dresses smeared and drenched in Holi colours presented a lovely picture. "Holi is a shared colourful heritage and spirited carnival of the Indian " said a Tangla College student ,Wajid Khan who enthusiastically joined the celebrations. The colours of the festival generated an ambience of good will and people participated in different functions that were held on the occasion. The citizens celebrated Holi with great enthusiasm and gaiety and joined friends and family members.
