The Centre has issued an advisory to the Assam Government and neighbouring states to be on alert in the run-up to the ULFA Raising Day on April 7.

According to information, the home ministry has inputs that anti-talk factions of ULFA may try to create blockades and law and order situations in the area as their leaders have directed their cadres to execute plans to create disturbances and disrupt normal life in the region.

The security forces in the area have also been kept on alert to thwart any plans by ULFA.
