

US to study NE climate change

Comments 0

editor 26 February 2012 8903 views

The United States of America is interested to do research on the renewable energy sources in the north eastern region.

Disclosing this n Saturday, US envoy to India Peter Burleigh said that the country would send a team of research experts to study the region's climatic change.

Talking to reporters in Guwahati on Saturday, he evinced keen interest to engage American companies to be associated with the nuclear plants in India.

editor

Please send your comments to editor@assamtimes.org

BY EDITOR

Witch hunting rerun in Chirang!

Police remand for Nagaon culprit

Candle lighting rally

ULFA condoles demise of SS Khaplang

Beef puts M'laya BJP in the red

ON THIS DAY

BJP leader likely to surrender

Congress demands CM's resignation

Durga puja ends in Kokrajhar

Award for BVFCL Daily Bazaar Puja

Dalai Lama to visit Manipur on October 17
