

Workshop on youth and climate change

Comments 0

Ranjan K Baruah 24 September 2008 8197 views

SMILE programme of Indo Global Social Service Society (IGSSS) is going to organize a workshop on Youth and Climate Change for college students and young professionals. The workshop will be held on 27th and 28th September at the conference hall of Indian Institute of Bank Management (IIBM). The programme includes talk by the experts, documentary screening on global warming and climate change, group works, debates, etc. There will be presentation on initiatives taken around the world by young people and how people from this region can take part in all these global events and raise their voice and concern related to climate change. It is to be mentioned that this year the international youth day also focused the theme of climate change. The recent youth version of Human Development Report (HDR) published by United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) also deals with youth and climate change. But most often it has been seen that less number of participants from this region of the country participate in global events due to lack of sufficient information. The workshop will provide a platform to explore more and more opportunities for young people. Interested participants may communicate with the IGSSS office (5th By Lane, Rajgarh) or may dial 98642 27589 for further details.

Ranjan K Baruah

Citizen Journalist and activist.

BY RANJAN K BARUAH

Lakes: The lifeblood of our planet

Humanitarian Workers Stand Up for People in Need

Different Contexts, Common Aspirations

MSME Day: Innovation key to building resilient businesses

International Day Against Drug Abuse: Innovation key to combating illicit drugs

ON THIS DAY

Raijor Dal on the doorstep

Heroin smugglers arrested

Gandhi Jayanti celebrated by Army in Lingibore

Cleanliness Drive By FCI and SOS Children's Village marks Gandhi Jayanti in Hojai.

PoK editor bats for more exchanges
